Question Two: Read the following text carefully and then answer all the questions that follow. Your answers should be based on the text. (30 points)

Text A:

And what about those creatures that many people would find positively ugly? With its tiny eyes, big mouth and slimy pink body, the blobfish is far from attractive. This marine creature lives deep in the ocean, where the pressure is very high. As a result, it has tiny fins and no skeleton, which keeps it from being crushed by the water pressure. Unfortunately, when fishing boats sweep the ocean floor, looking for other fish and crustaceans, these fish can get swept into the nets accidentally.

The threat faced by the pangolin, however, is far from accidental. They are more often targeted by poachers than any other animal in the world. Unique among mammals, it is covered in scales, like a reptile. They may not look very cuddly or cute, but these scales are highly prized in traditional Chinese medicine, which has caused the population of pangolins in China to fall by around 90% since the 1960s. Their scales protect them from their natural predators, but it's simple for a poacher to just pick them up.

Other creatures become endangered precisely because people find them ugly. Take the aye aye for example. Found only on the island of Madagascar, the aye aye is the world's largest nocturnal primate. During the day they sleep in nests in the trees, coming out to hunt at night. They are solitary creatures, furry, and harmless but unfortunately, the way they look means that they are traditionally considered an omen of bad luck. Some people even believe that if they point that thin middle finger at someone, they will die.

- 1) The writer mentioned that the blobfish can't be smashed because of two reasons. Mention them. (3 points)
- 2) The underlined pronoun "which" refers to. (3 points)
- 3) Quote the sentence that shows that the pangolin isn't a reptile. (3 points)
- 4) According to the text, the aye aye has several characteristics. Mention two of them. (3 points)
- 5) Rare animals should be protected. Suggest three ways to protect rare animals. (3 points)

Text B:

In 2015, Tracy Warshal was in the queue at a busy shop during the holiday season when the man in front of her realised he'd forgotten his wallet. Tracy paid for the stranger's milk and other items, and after thanking her and asking her name, he was on his way. She thought no more of it until a month later when she was contacted by colleagues at the cancer charity where she worked. They told her that the man, who wished to remain anonymous, wanted to donate $10,000 to the foundation in her name. As she was wearing a T-shirt with the charity's name on it at the shop, he was able to track her down. She told reporters, 'I'm just so excited that one small gesture made a huge difference and impact on a lot of people. I hope it makes some people think twice about doing something small to somebody.'

In the Autumn of 2012, Lisa Ludwinski started her business from her parents' kitchen when she made and sold 40 pies. The reaction to them was so positive that she kept going. What followed was an industrious few years. Lisa took a business class, took on an intern and raised money for her own bakery in Detroit, Michigan. She even did a 24-hour fundraising activity, bringing in $26,593, which allowed her to open Sister Pie in April, 2015. Integral to Lisa's business philosophy is making Sister Pie a part of the community. Due to this, she operates a 'Pie it Forward' system where customers can purchase a coupon. This is then kept on the wall and can be used by strangers, who may not have enough money, to enjoy a slice of the delicious pies.

Text A:

Oliver decided to escape to London but had no food and went hungry for days, before he met another boy called Jack Dawkins. He showed Oliver the way to the city. Jack introduced Oliver to an old man called Fagin, who gave Oliver some food and a bed to sleep on. The next day, Oliver saw many other boys come to Fagin's house. The boys gathered together to give the old man watches and jewellery. Fagin then told Oliver to go into the streets with the other boys and learn from them. Oliver was shocked when he saw the boys take things from people's pockets. He understood that they were thieves!

Suddenly, a man saw the boys take a handkerchief from his pocket. He shouted at the boys, and as they ran away, a police officer tried to arrest Oliver. But a man, Mr Brownlow, told the police officer that Oliver had not taken anything. Mr Brownlow was worried about the skinny boy and took him back to his house, where the housekeeper looked after Oliver. When Oliver was better, he was walking along the streets when a woman grabbed him. She took him back to Fagin's. Fagin then asked Oliver to help Mr Sikes with a job in the country. They told Oliver to climb through a small window of a house. When he did so, he was shot. Luckily, he survived. When he was better, he was taken to Mr Brownlow, and was made to feel at home. Mr Brownlow explained that Oliver's mother was a rich woman. But his brother, a man called Monks, knew that Oliver would only get the money if Oliver was an honest person. So he watched Oliver and made sure that he met Jack Dawkins, and then Fagin. In this way, Oliver would never be honest and Monks could keep all the money. At the end of the story, Monks gives Oliver the money that is owed to him and leaves the country. Oliver is adopted by Mr Brownlow, which shows what a kind man he is.

Text B:

But after a week his supplies ran out. He caught fish and used parts of his wooden hut to make a fire and cook the fish. Not having any more fresh drinking water, he had no choice but to drink sea water. However, he filtered the sea water through his clothes to reduce the amount of salt. This must have done the trick because he survived for four days until it rained and he was able to collect some rainwater.

His survival skills were keeping him alive, but he was starting to wonder if he would ever be rescued. He saw more than ten ships sail past him, but none of them seemed to have a clue that he was there. After a few weeks, he thought he had at last got his lucky break when he managed to talk to the captain of an Indonesian ship by walkie-talkie. The captain promised he would pick him up once they had finished work for the day. Heartbreakingly, Aldi never saw the ship again.

After this setback, he really started to worry. To try and take his mind off his situation he sang and read. However, the isolation took its toll on him. He admitted that he almost gave up hope, but the thought of seeing his parents again kept him going.

In the end, after 49 days, he saw a ship, The Arpeggio. Desperate to make himself understood he used the few words of English he knew over the radio: 'Help! Help!' The ship turned around to pick him up. The boat was heading for Japan, so they took him with them. Finally, the Indonesian embassy collected him and flew him home, almost two months after his ordeal had begun.

Text A:

The Rosetta Stone is nothing much to look at. Nevertheless, visitors to the British Museum flow endlessly past the piece of rock, despite being unable to make out what is written on it. If they could, they might be disappointed to discover that it is a kind of tax document. However, as the museum guides explain, the Rosetta Stone is the star of an incredible story about figuring out how to communicate with the past.

The tale begins over 2000 years ago in Egypt. When Pharaoh Ptolemy IV died, his six-year-old son became the ruler. This was the start of years of chaos as rival groups tried to influence him. Eventually, the boy-pharaoh grew up and, with the assistance of powerful priests, he took control. In 196 BCE, like all the other pharaohs before him, he wished to announce to the world the importance of his role. The Rosetta Stone is one of 18 stones that were put in temples around Egypt; their purpose was both to point this message and to bring into law some very generous tax breaks for priests. The stone is of particular historical importance because the 'memo' it contains is written in three languages: Greek, an Egyptian language called Demotic, and hieroglyphics like those found on tombs.

- 1) Find a word in the text which means “to see something with difficulty”.
- 2) What does the underlined pronoun “him” refer to?
- 3) Write down the sentence which shows the Rosetta Stone contains a tax document.
- 4) The writer states several reasons behind the years of chaos in Egypt. Mention two of them.
- 5) The 18 stones were scattered in Egypt for two purposes. Mention them.
- 6) Learning a language is considered to be important to acknowledge others. Suggest three benefits of learning a language.

In order to help people understand what it's like to have autism, could Virtual Reality (VR) help? Virtual Reality is a computer-generated simulation of an experience, which is seen in 3D, and which can feel almost exactly like really being in that situation. According to Chris Milk in his TED talk, Virtual Reality connects humans to other humans in a way which can change people's perceptions of each other. Perhaps in response to such ideas, the National Autistic Society has developed a VR experience to help people understand what sensory overload feels like. People can watch the video using special 3D glasses, which take them more fully into the experience. So far, it has had six million views, and the comments certainly indicate that it's having a powerful effect.

The potential impact of VR in helping us to understand one another and the world around us is exciting. For example, some people went through the virtual experience of chopping down a tree. Afterwards, the researcher 'accidentally' spilt his drink and those people who had been 'chopping down trees' reached for fewer paper napkins, suggesting that their experience had subconsciously encouraged them to stop wasting paper.

- 1) Quote the sentence which shows the definition of Virtual Reality.
- 2) The writer states two pieces of evidence which show that the video developed by the National Autistic Society was successful. Mention them.
- 3) The experiment of chopping down a tree has a positive effect on people who did it. Mention it.
- 4) What does the underline pronoun "his" refer to?
- 5) Having a VR experience helps people understand what is like to have disability. Think of this statement and, in two sentences, explain your point of view.

Question Two: Read the following text carefully and then answer all the questions that follow. Your answers should be based on the text. (30 points)

Text A:

When developers released a statement that they were going to build a luxury new hotel at the local beach, everyone in the town was very excited. There have been talks for years about opportunities for new developments, but they never seem to happen. We all have to seize the opportunity and realise that the hotel will not only give us work, but offer improvements to the whole area around the beach. The developers have promised a new road with wide pavements to and from the beach and a replacement of the sad old beach restaurants which have been there for years. We have asked for such development for years and I'm so happy that the developers have come up with a solution to help local people.

These restaurants will be too expensive for most people in our neighbourhood. I am also sure that locals who work at the old restaurants will probably lose their jobs. My investigation also revealed a plan to build several new roads to the beach which will affect bird and animal life in a sensitive nature area. I am not an activist and I refute the allegation that I tried to obstruct building work last week. However, people should have the freedom to protest about things they do not agree with. I plan to join the other protesters who want a suspension of the building work until we know exactly how many jobs will go to local people. Tension will also continue until the plans for new roads are moved away from the sensitive nature areas.

- 1) The writer uses several examples which show that he is biased. Mention two of them.
- 2) The writer states several negative impacts of building the new roads and restaurants. Mention two of them.
- 3) Write down the sentence which shows that the writer is not an activist.
- 4) What does the underlined pronoun "they" refer to?
- 5) Don't judge the book from its cover. Think of this statement and, in two sentences, explain your point of view.

Text B:

Living small requires careful planning and who better to turn to for inspiration than the Japanese, the masters in the art of saving space. In densely populated cities like Tokyo, many people live in apartments smaller than ten square metres. They have managed to come up with ingenious space-saving solutions to make the apartments feel less cramped, such as the use of deep wardrobes and cupboards for storage. In this way, bedding can be folded and put away every day, allowing the room to be used for purposes other than sleeping. Another method is the use of sliding doors which can divide the room into different living areas when required.

Professor Ellen Pader from the University of Massachusetts, who has published research on the impact of space on relationships, believes a major benefit of sharing space with others is that you learn respect for other people, and you also learn to negotiate with people, instead of just withdrawing when things get difficult. In many western countries, there is an assumption that we all need privacy, but this is not a universally shared belief. In Mexico, for example, according to Pader's research, people often prefer to share bedrooms and bathrooms because being alone feels like a punishment.

- 1) Write down the sentence which shows the nationality of people who are masters in saving space.
- 2) Professor Ellen Pader concludes from his research two positive results of sharing space. Mention them.
- 3) Why do people in Mexico prefer sharing space?
- 4) Find a word in the text which means "not having enough space".
- 5) What does the underlined word "this" refer to?
- 6) Everyone needs some privacy, but he/ she should socialize with others. Suggest three positive impact of being sociable.
